

Die sinker employs modular components

ONA EDM has added the new die sinker FlexPro Series machine to its product line.

This large format automated die sink EDM machine uses modular components for a design of many configurations, allowing customers to purchase machines with specifications and options that match their work. The new design allows users to define their needs to get a custom piece of equipment at the same cost as a standard machine. Features of the FlexPro Series include single or dual heads, C-axis and tool changer options, 50 combinations of X-Y-Z axes travels, up to 118 in., fixed bed holds up to 55,000 lbs., and more.
